

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SHINYDOCS LANDS SPOT ON FOUNDERSBETA TOP 100 TECH COMPANIES TO WATCH FOR IN 2024

Shinydocs is an AI-driven software solution that helps organizations achieve their information governance goals while optimizing business operations

KITCHENER, ON | FEBRUARY 29, 2024 — Shinydocs is pleased to announce it has been named amongst the Top 100 Tech Companies to Watch in Canada for 2024 by FoundersBeta ranking 18. Shinydocs helps organizations envision a future where businesses harness the power of their data effortlessly, driving success through informed decisions and enhanced productivity.

“It is an honour to be recognized among the Top Tech Companies to Watch in Canada for 2024,” says Jason Cassidy, CEO of Shinydocs. “We are living in an era of unprecedented information overload, where every click, notification and email competes for our attention. Our mission is to redefine how organizations manage and leverage their data to make informed business decisions.”

FoundersBeta is a global network of founders and innovators with over 6,000 members connecting tech companies around the world to top talent. The annual “Top 100 Tech Companies to Watch in Canada” list features companies making waves in the sector. This is the third year Shinydocs has been named on the FoundersBeta list. In 2022, it ranked 24th and in 2023 it ranked 21st.

“As a proud contributor to Canada’s vibrant tech landscape, we recognize the pivotal role of innovation in driving economic growth and global competitiveness,” says Cassidy. “We look forward to continuing to contribute to the country’s technological evolution and making a positive impact on businesses and organizations worldwide.”

Shinydocs provides software and services to make it easier for companies to find the files, documents, and records that hold valuable business information by taking a search engine approach that crawls through structured and unstructured document storage applications to discover data and then automatically recognize, classify, and index the content.

Shinydocs has enabled leading organizations within the legal, energy, government, and financial services verticals to make more accurate, data-driven decisions while significantly reducing time searching for files and improving the overall customer and employee experiences. Shinydocs’ software operates without any disruption to the end user, allowing employees to work as usual without the need to migrate data or switch between different applications.

For more information on Shinydocs, please visit www.shinydocs.com.

To view the full list of tech companies on Top 100 Tech Companies to Watch in Canada visit

-30-

ABOUT SHINYDOCS

Shinydocs' software automates the process of finding and identifying all files, media content, and documents buried in repositories across an organization, so users can make more informed decisions to help drive growth and positive customer experiences. The company believes that there's a better, more intuitive, and cost-effective way for organizations to manage information. This belief has propelled Shinydocs forward in the development of the company's software, services, and strategy and allows Shinydocs to support organizations such as AgNovos Healthcare and Dunedin City Council in the pursuit of improving customer experience, collaboration, innovation, and ability to demonstrate compliance with industry regulations through easier and more effective management of business content.

For more information visit: www.shinydocs.com.

For media inquiries, please contact:

Brittany Bortolon

brittanyb@durrellcomm.com